Hundreds back call to reinstate railway link

CCTV issued after pensioner injured

POLICE have released a CCTV image of a man they want to speak to after an elderly man's hip was fractured as two thieves fled from a Witney store after stealing a CD.

One of them knocked into the victim, causing him to fall to the floor and suffer the injury.

Police released CCTV images of the two men on Saturday in connection with the incident of grievous bodily harm, but one of them has since been identified by officers.

The two offenders ran off in the direction of the Waitrose car park after taking the CD from the Rapture music store in the Woolgate Centre at about 1.05pm on Wednesday, December 7.

The first offender is described as being white, in his mid-20s, slim and with medium-length hair. He was wearing blue jeans, a maroon coloured T-shirt and a blue fleece.

The second offender is white, in his early 20s, of short and stocky build, with dark medium-length hair. He was wearing tracksuit bottoms.

Contact police on 101 if you have any information.

More than 1,000 signatures on resident's petition for old Witney-to-Oxford link

By George Welch

A PETITION calling for the reinstatement of a rail link between Witney and Oxford has gathered more than 1,000 signatures.

Launched in September, a total of 1,252 people have signed the petition, which is to be delivered to both the West Oxfordshire District Council and Oxfordshire County Council.

The petition, set up by Witney resident Dylan Pearce, reached its 1,000-signature milestone on Thursday last week.

Mr Pearce said: "Rush-hour traffic on the A40 is always slow and can take people more than an hour to get into Oxford. Currently the plan is to make the A40 a dual carriageway to Eynsham and have a park-and-ride there.

"The plans expect half the people on the A40 to go to the park-and-ride, but it's cheaper for people to drive so they're not going to pay for the park-and-ride as it's slower for them and costs money."

A call to bring back into use the disused train line from Witney to Oxford by reopening Yarnton Station was voiced by the West Oxfordshire Green Party in February.

Reopening Yarnton Station would provide a link for Witney commuters to the Oxford-to-Hanborough route. It was closed in 1962 as part of the Beeching Report, marking the end of passenger trains between the town and the city.

The county council said that following support for trains in a public consultation carried out last year, discussions with lead partners Network Rail and rail operators "may be pursued in the future".

The Green Party, which has been pressing for a rail solution to traffic problems on the A40 between Carterton and Oxford, said the consultation had been "misleading" as 29 per cent of those responding wanted a dual carriageway, but 46 per cent wanted a different solution altogether.

Witney resident Brita Sensicall believes restoring the rail link would be

Police clampdown on drivers using phones

By Adam Flinn

POLICE have been using a covert lorry in a bid to catch drivers on the A34 and M40 using their mobile phones.

Officers drove along the two roads for five hours on Tuesday last week and stopped 17 drivers.

Of these, 12 were pulled over for using a mobile phone while driving, including one HGV driver, three were stopped for not wearing a seatbelt, and two for careless driving.

It is part of a clampdown by Thames Valley Police to stop people from using their phones while driving following a number of incidents this year.

Chief Inspector Henry Parsons said: "We are committed to reducing deaths and serious injury on the roads of the Thames Valley.

"The use of a covert vehicle is a useful method in tackling mobile phone use, as it allows us to see into the cabs of lorry drivers and see if they are using mobile phones. Sometimes HGV drivers think as they are high up we cannot see them using a device, but with this tactic we definitely can.

"We would remind everyone not to use their mobile phone whilst driving, and remember it's not worth the risk."

In August, a mother and three children were killed on the A34 near East Ilsley after lorry driver Tomasz Kroker was distracted by his phone and caused an eight-vehicle collision.

Police have also highlighted two other incidents in recent months in which a lorry on the M40 drifted on to the hard shoulder just half a mile away from a vehicle parked on it, and a car driver on the A34 filmed for more than 30 seconds driving along with no hands on the steering wheel.

PC Perry Knight said: "A lot of the recent accidents in the area have been caused by drivers not concentrating on what they're doing, where they're going and what's in front of them. So we're doing a real clampdown on that to try and detect drivers on the phone, not wearing their seatbelts, or any other careless driving they might be doing."

OXON: Children in Oxfordshire are being advised to get a free flu vaccination over the next few weeks.

Oxfordshire Clinical Commissioning Group is offering children aged between two and eight a new nasal spray vaccine.

Clinical chairman Dr Joe McManners said: "Flu can be serious for young children.

"Help protect them from flu with one simple nasal spray. The vaccination is free, fast and painless so don't put it off."

Vaccinations are offered at a number of schools and GP practices.

Trapped kitten saved

AN adventurous kitten gave its owners a fright when it got its head wedged in a toy car.

Fire crews received the unusual call to help the cat, who is only a few months old, at 12.15pm on Wednesday last week at a Stanford in the Vale home.

A fire officer attended to assess the scene, followed by a fire crew from Faringdon who freed the kitten unharmed from its predicament.

The kitten had climbed inside a child's sit-in pedal car and pushed its head up through a small hole at the back, becoming trapped by the neck. Its owner had tried to cut through the plastic car to release it, but found the material too hard.

The distressed kitten had been stuck for some time before the owner found it.

The firefighters managed to get enough space to slide a small saw blade down the hole next to the kitten's neck and, after some very delicate cutting, managed to free it.

The fire and rescue service's incident commander Graham Turner said: "It serves as a lesson to all youngsters at this time of year not to be tempted to dive in to your presents too early!"

West Oxfordshire promotes fresh devolution scheme

New council deal backed

By George Welch

WEST Oxfordshire district councillors have backed revised plans for a new devolution deal.

The plan proposes the formation of a combined authority involving Oxfordshire's five district and city councils and Oxfordshire County Council, as well as key partners such as the Local Enterprise Partnership and Oxfordshire Growth Board.

Each council, including the county, would continue to operate as they do currently, but the combined authority, which would include a directly-elected mayor, would be responsible for strategic functions such as planning and infrastructure, highways and transport, spatial housing strategy and skills.

As a result, it would unlock more funding streams from central Government that would allow greater investment in major infrastructure projects across the county, West Oxfordshire District Council said.

It said the devolution proposals were considered as taking priority over plans to create a unitary authority, which continue to be pursued by the county council.

WODC leader James Mills said: "Residents are not interested in what they perceive as local councils squabbling among themselves. What is important is delivering infrastructure and I believe devolution can do that.

"This would be the best possible outcome for all Oxfordshire residents – it is what we should be working towards."

The proposals were agreed by WODC's cabinet last week and will be considered by full council on January 18.

Currently running as a two-tier system, there is conflict as the councils try to strike a deal to become a single unitary authority in order to receive more powers from the Government. The district councils want to abolish the county council to set up their own authorities, which would run all services.

They favour having a three unitary authority model – one each for the city and the north and south of the county, while the county council want a single unitary council for Oxfordshire.

Two independent reports costing £200,000 revealed local authorities could save up to £113m over five years.

The county council say they will shortly publish proposals for a single unitary council for Oxfordshire.

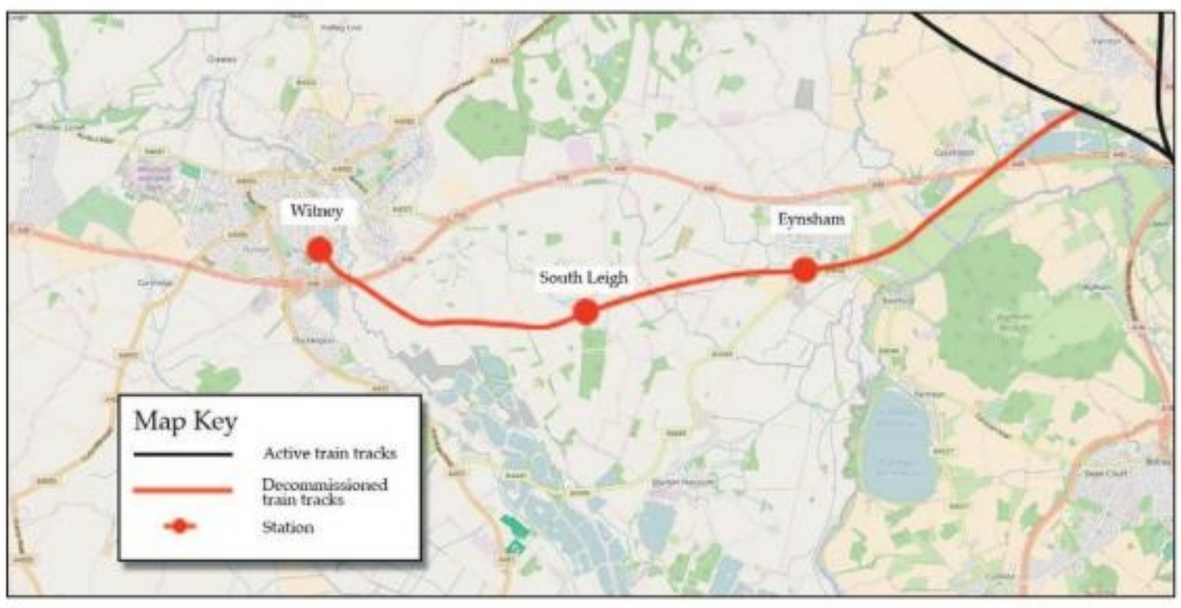
Critic of the rail link idea brands it as a 'waste of time'



• From front page

"fantastic", saying the benefits would include less pollution, less stress for travellers/commuters and save traffic having to be funnelled on to the narrow roads of both Oxford and other towns.

She added: "A bit idealistic, I know, but it would be fundamentally better for Witney and the people who live here."

But Dean Bull, another Witney local, is more sceptical of the idea and raised concerns of where the track would go.

He said on the social networking site Facebook: "Waste of time, it won't ever happen.

"Clearly lots of people don't know the area or where the line ran or what's built there now.

"Putting up stupid stuff like this is just wasting people's time and money, this will probably end up with enough signatures to go to Parliament and then waste more money being looked at there... just for them to come to the same conclusion."

Anyone wanting to support Mr Pearce's petition can do so at the website: https://www.change.org/p/oxfordshire-county-council-please-reinstate-the-railway-between-witney-and-oxford.

Thousands raised for charity in memory of accident victim

By George Welch

MORE than £25,000 has been raised in memory of a four-year-old boy who died after an accident in a Thame leisure centre car park.

Barnaby Cork was struck by a car outside Thame Leisure Centre, in Oxford Road, shortly before 10.30am on December 10.

The driver stopped at the scene and emergency services were called but Barnaby died on the way to hospital.

Last week, the boy's heartbroken family members set up a charity fundraising page in his memory, with all the money raised going to support Thames Valley Air Ambulance.

The JustGiving page has so far raised £25,419.

A message on the JustGiving page, set up by Barnaby's dad Stefan, paid tribute to their "precious" son and thanked the emergency services for their efforts.

Mr Cork said the family wanted to raise money for Thames Valley Air Ambulance "because they are simply amazing".

The message read: "Our precious Barnaby was our world, our everything. He was taken from us at such a tender age; we are so so heartbroken to say goodbye before any of us are ready.

"We would give anything to have Barnaby back in the safe and loving arms of our family.

• Barnaby Cork and the scene of the incident (Picture courtesy of Thame Hub)

"We were so lucky to have such amazing doctors at hand in an instant.

"Ella and I will forever be indebted for the speed, skill and courage of all these great people on the scene fighting with Barnaby, including the Thames Valley Air Ambulance.

"Only this summer we were raising money for the air ambulance and never for one second thought that we would be calling on them in our own moment of need... and that's the thing. None of us know what's round the corner.

"We're privileged to be able to call on the best support whenever we need it but should never take this for granted."

The family's message continued: "Every penny we can raise in memory of Barnaby could just help change the life of someone else's son or daughter.

"Thank you from the bottom of our hearts."

By Friday morning more than £15,000 had been raised and on Monday morning the donations shot over the £23,000 mark before reaching £25,419 as the Guardian went to press on Tuesday.

Last week, St Mary's Church in Thame welcomed residents to pay their respects to Barnaby and light a candle in the church in his memory.

Man, 18, jailed for drug offences after picture found of him posing with a shotgun

A TEENAGER was jailed for more than four and a half years after police found a photo of him posing with a shotgun during a drugs bust.

Benolo Makobe was sentenced for firearms and drugs offences at Oxford Crown Court on Wednesday last week.

On February 8, the 18-year-old, of Lovelace Gardens, Kingston-upon-Thames, was detained after running away from police in Woodins Way, Oxford.

A search revealed 43 wraps of cocaine and 24 wraps of heroin in his bag.

Officers found two images of him posing with a sawn-off shotgun on his mobile phone.

A later search of his home in June revealed the shotgun hidden in a cupboard. He denied any knowledge of it.

For the firearms offences, Makobe was sentenced to three years' imprisonment on each offence to run concurrently. For the drugs offences, he was sentenced to 20 months' imprisonment on each count to run concurrently.

The sentences on the firearms and drugs offences are to run consecutively, giving a total of four years and eight months' detention.

Makobe was also ordered to pay costs of £213.05.

Self-harm study

OXFORD: Tests could predict people set to repeatedly self-harm, according to Oxford-led research.

Dr Matthew Broome, an Oxford Health psychiatrist and researcher at Oxford University's Department of Psychiatry, analysed 15 studies of the relationship between different psychological factors and the risk of self-harm to reach his conclusion.

The research identified "a clear association" between repeated self-harm and two computer tests simulating real-life decision-making.

Dr Broome said: "If we are able to identify people more likely to harm themselves repeatedly, we can reduce the risk of suicide and target interventions, as well as reduce the great personal and healthcare costs of repeated self-harm."

Garden charge

W OXON: Residents in West Oxfordshire will have to pay for their garden waste to be collected from next April.

Householders wanting to have it collected from their home on a fortnightly basis will have to pay £30 a year for the service.

West Oxfordshire District Council's cabinet approved the decision at a meeting on Wednesday last week.

Lib Dems accuse MPs of ignoring EU choice

By George Welch

OXFORDSHIRE'S MPs have defended voting in favour of triggering Article 50 to start Brexit talks by the end of March.

The six MPs – Nicola Blackwood (Oxford West and Abingdon), Robert Courts (Witney), John Howell (Henley), Victoria Prentis (Banbury), Andrew Smith (Oxford East) and Ed Vaizey (Wantage) – all voted in favour of Prime Minister Theresa May's bid to begin Brexit in three months time.

The PM's pledge to deliver on June's landmark referendum verdict was overwhelming backed by a massive majority of 372.

A total of 461 MPs voted in favour of the timetable, but despite Mrs May's comfortable victory, 89 MPs still voted against Brexit and her timetable to begin it by March 31. A further 60 MPs abstained, including 56 Labour MPs.

The Liberal Democrats, who finished second in October's Witney by-election and reduced the Conservative's share of the vote in the constituency from 60 per cent to 45 per cent, have accused Oxfordshire's MPs of ignoring the wishes of the county's voters.

Oxfordshire was the only county to vote in favour of staying in the EU, with Oxford voting 70 per cent to Remain.

Lib Dem Oxford West and Abingdon parliamentary candidate Layla Moran said: "Oxfordshire has made its view on the EU quite clear. We want to remain.

"Here, in Oxford West & Abingdon, we saw very high support for Remain, yet our MP has chosen to ignore our voices."

She also criticised the cost of a hard Brexit on jobs, healthcare and investment in research and education in the county.

But Oxfordshire's elected representatives defended their votes by saying politicians should respect democracy and the outcome.

The only Oxfordshire Labour MP, Oxford East representative Mr Smith said: "I respect the overall outcome of the referendum, even though I campaigned hard to remain in the EU, just as even though Oxford East voted Labour in the General Election, I respect that the overall result was a Conservative majority. What's more, before the referendum I assured several constituents that I would implement the referendum result whichever way it went."

MP for Henley, Dr Howell said: "We ran this referendum on a nationwide basis, not on the basis of individual constituencies or counties. It therefore comes as a bit rich for the Liberal Democrats to accuse us of ignoring the wishes of the people when that is what they are doing."

Cherwell was the only constituency to vote in favour of leaving the EU in the referendum. Banbury MP Ms Prentis said: "The majority of my constituents voted to Leave at the referendum in June. While I voted Remain, I am a firm believer in our Parliamentary democracy. We must respect the result."

Jailed for £20,000 con

A FRAUDSTER has been sentenced to more than three years' in jail after conning a woman with learning disabilities of £20,000.

Police said Karl McCarthy, 38 of no fixed abode, treated a vulnerable woman in her 30s as a 'walking cash machine'.

McCarthy told the woman, who formed a strong attachment to the hoaxer [due to her disability], that he had a 'rare form of epilepsy' which required 'daily medication' without which he would become 'seriously ill or die'.

But McCarthy was actually using the heroin substitute methadone and had been using the woman's money to buy heroin.

The woman's family was coerced into handing over her savings of £20,000.

McCarthy pleaded guilty at Oxford Crown Court on December 8 to one count of fraud by false representation and was sentenced at the same court hearing to 40 months' in jail. He was charged with the offence in June.

Investigating officer PC Jenny Hatten, based at Witney police station, said: "This case highlights the sheer greed and utter ruthlessness of McCarthy.

"Over a period of several years, he financially exploited this young woman with a learning difficulty after 'grooming' her following a chance meeting and pretending to be her boyfriend.

"The victim's parents tried to be supportive, even though they were concerned for their daughter, because her disability meant that she had formed a strong attachment to him.

"McCarthy was soon using her like a walking cash machine to fund his spiralling drug habit.

• Fraudster Karl McCarthy

"The case demonstrates the inherent dangers of engaging on the street with unknown people and I hope it makes those who are caring for the most vulnerable people in our society aware of the risks to help to prevent the people they care for from becoming victims in a similar way."

Flush with success

THERE is nothing bog standard about Oxford's toilets as many of them can prove having scooped national awards.

The city council is rightly flush with success having won 10 Platinum Grade and eight Gold Grade Loo of the Year Awards from the British Toilet Association (BTA). Platinum is the highest grade granted.

On top of this the council was the UK overall winner in the in the Public Toilet category beating off challengers from the rest of England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland.

The awards follow a £700,000 programme of refurbishment work carried out between 2013 and 2016. The work saw 13 of Oxford's street-based public conveniences refurbished along with three in the council's parks.

Councillor John Tanner, Board Member for a Clean and Green Oxford, said: "It's a remarkable achievement and recognition of the investment the City Council has made to ensure the facilities are first-rate. These awards are a well-deserved acknowledgement for the council staff who keep our public conveniences clean."

The City Council maintains 23 public conveniences – one at Redbridge Park and Ride, three in parks, one in the Town Hall, one in each of the council's four cemeteries and 14 others across the city.

'Dogs are for life'

W OXON: West Oxfordshire District Council is urging people to take note of the Dogs Trust's famous slogan – 'A dog is for life, not just for Christmas'.

The council said it picks up around 100 every year that are either lost or abandoned.

wTo report or claim a stray dog, call WODC on 01993 861000.

Once a stray dog has been collected, it is taken to council-appointed kennels and owners have seven days to claim their pet.

If unclaimed, the stray will be rehomed through an animal rescue centre.

Councils top of the tree for recycling

By George Welch

TWO Oxfordshire councils have been voted the best local authorities across the country for their level of recycling.

South Oxfordshire District Council (SODC) has been named the best recycler in the country with neighbouring Vale of White Horse District Council claiming fourth place.

SODC took the honour in the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs' (DEFRA) annual recycling league tables for 2015/16.

It's the third year in a row that South Oxfordshire has topped the table, although the Vale dropped from second place last year.

According to the councils, this is in part due to big improvements from other councils. The recycling rates from East Riding of Yorkshire, which won second place, improved by over eight per cent.

The good news comes despite a small drop in the recycling figures in both districts due to recycling in green wheelie bins being contaminated with food waste, dirty nappies and other things that can't be recycled.

These are often hidden in sacks the waste crews can't see into, and full lorry loads of recycling were being rejected as a result. But new policies not to empty recycling bins containing non-clear sacks, which came into force for both councils last month, have already had a positive effect.

Since the new policy was introduced, no lorry loads of recycling have so far been rejected due to contamination.

Cllr Tony Harbour, cabinet member for waste at SODC, said: "We're extremely pleased to be top of the tables again and we're very grateful for the hard work of our residents – we took a difficult decision this year to stop people using non-clear sacks in their bins to prevent contamination.

"Most of our residents have already adapted brilliantly though, which should help us stay near the top for another year."

Cllr Charlotte Dickson, cabinet member for waste at the Vale, said: "I'm very happy to hear that our residents are still among the best in the country.

"We've already made great headway to tackle the contamination problem, so when we combine that with our successful kerbside textiles and electricals recycling collections, we're confident we'll be back to challenging our neighbours in South Oxfordshire for the number one spot next year."

Bedroom fire at Randolph hotel

OXFORD: FIrefighters were called to the Randolph Hotel to attend a blaze in a bedroom.

Two fire engines from Rewley Road fire station attended the incident on Wednesday last week where crews were faced with light smoke and a strong smell of burning percolating from a first floor bedroom at 11.40pm.

Two elderly residents had been moved from the bedroom by hotel staff, and firefighters made the room safe and cleared the smoke.

One woman was treated for smoke inhalation.

The fire is believed to have started inside an electrical nebulizer which had over heated.

Brexit 'in' OED

OXON: The word Brexit has been added to the Oxford English Dictionary (OED).

It defines Brexit as "the (proposed) withdrawal of the United Kingdom from the European Union, and the political process associated with it".

The OED notes the 'impressive' speed with which the word has become widely known.

BBOWT call

OXON: 13 environmental groups, including Berkshire, Buckinghamshire and Oxfordshire Wildlife Trust (BBOWT), have called on politicians to ensure the environment is properly covered in Brexit talks.

They have formed the Greener UK coalition, which wants Prime Minister Theresa May to commit to using Brexit negotiations to restore the UK's environment and maintain its protections that have been developed with the EU.

Chief fire officer set to retire

By George Welch

OXFORDSHIRE'S Chief Fire Officer Dave Etheridge OBE has announced his retirement after a distinguished 32 year career in the Fire and Rescue Service.

Mr Etheridge will retire from his role on March 31, to coincide with his final day as the President of Chief Fire Officers Association.

He joined Oxfordshire County Council's Fire and Rescue Service as an on-call firefighter in 1985. Having transferred into the full-time service in 1987, he undertook a wide variety of specialist and managerial roles before being appointed as the county's Chief Fire Officer in June 2010.

As well as being Chief Fire Officer for the county, Mr Etheridge is also a member of Oxfordshire County Council's management team, with broader responsibility for countywide Emergency Planning, Road Safety, Business Continuity, Trading Standards and Community Safety.

In 2015 he was awarded an OBE for Services to the Community in the Queen's New Year's Honours list.

He said: "It has been my privilege to serve in Oxfordshire my entire career. I can honestly put my hand on my heart and say that I have thoroughly enjoyed the last 32 years. To develop from being an on-call firefighter from Abingdon to a Chief Fire Officer shows what an amazing organisation the County Council is; one that really does invest in its people.

"I feel humbled and privileged to have worked with and met so many dedicated people whose commitment to public service, their role and sense of duty seems limitless and inspirational."

Councillor Rodney Rose, the Deputy Leader of Oxfordshire County Council, who also has Cabinet responsibility for Oxfordshire Fire and Rescue Service, said: "As Chief Fire Officer, the contribution Dave has made to Oxfordshire County Council's Fire and Rescue Service has been enormous. I will miss him personally and would like to thank him for his commitment and hard work to make Oxfordshire a safer place to live, work and visit."

Simon Furlong, Deputy Chief Fire Officer of Oxfordshire County Council's Fire and Rescue Service has been selected to become the next Chief Fire Officer and will formally take up the post from 1 April 2017.

Mr Furlong said: "I feel extremely proud to have been selected to become the next Chief Fire Officer of Oxfordshire County Council's Fire and Rescue Service. I would like to sincerely thank Chief Fire Officer Etheridge who has been a strong and inspirational leader and I am only too aware that I have big boots to fill."

Landlord fined £9,000 for illegally renting out property

AN Oxford landlord has been convicted of multiple housing offences and fined more than £9,000.

Maria Rosa De Simone Ramjohn, 73, of Marston Street, Oxford, was prosecuted after Environmental Health Officers from Oxford City Council investigated a house she had rented as a house in multiple occupation (HMO) in Marston Street that was found to be unlicensed.

There were also 14 breaches of the Management of Houses in Multiple Occupation (England) Regulations 2006.

She had breached fire safety regulations and failed to ensure that common parts in the property were in good and clean decorative repair.

The common parts were also not in safe and working condition, and windows had not been kept in good repair. The garden was overgrown, cluttered with rubbish and posed a safety risk.

It is the third time the council has prosecuted Mrs Ramjohn for HMO offences. She did not appear at Oxford Magistrates' Court in person on Tuesday last week but submitted a written plea of guilty to all six charges.

After hearing the facts and a note of her previous convictions the court fined her £1,500 for each of the six charges and also awarded the City Council £1,425 in costs.

Councillor Alex Hollingsworth, Board member for Planning and Regulatory Services, said: "This case, which involves a repeat offender, illustrates why we believe the court should impose stiff penalties on landlords who wilfully ignore the law."

School celebrates first Christmas

A SPECIAL school which opened in May has celebrated its first Christmas with a Christingle service.

Students and staff from LVS Oxford, for children on the autistic spectrum, gathered at St Michael's Church in Begbroke on Friday last week to celebrate the end to a fantastic year of progress for the school.

The service was led by Father Nathan Jarvis, the school's Chaplin, and included the first public performances of the school's newly formed staff and student choirs. Parents, learners, staff and members of the local community came together to enjoy carols, songs, readings and prayers and give thanks for an amazing year for the school.

The service on Friday saw the lighting of the Christingles which students had prepared in school and Father Nathan said: "It was a magical service for everyone who attended. The learners and staff had put a huge amount of effort into rehearsing their singing and readings. The performances were fantastic and it was really moving to witness how far these young people have come during their time at the school."

Learner Reece Sutton sang with the student choir and performed solo lines in their rendition of Band Aid's Do They Know It's Christmas?

Reece said: "It has been really good for me to try something new. I was nervous but our teachers Neil and Claire have encouraged us a lot. When it was time to give my first public performance I was ready and actually really enjoyed it."

Head Girl at LVS Oxford Holly Balchin said: "It was a great experience. Whole school events can be stressful for some of the students here at LVS Oxford but I think it is important that we don't shy away from them, supporting each other so we can overcome our fears and build confidence. The school puts a strong emphasis on our social growth, which is just as important as the academic work for students who are on the autistic spectrum."

The school enjoyed festive refreshments in the dining hall after the service.

Louisa Allison-Bergin, LVS Oxford's Head of Centre, said: "After a very busy term in school, it has been wonderful to come together to reflect on our blessings and remember all those people who are less fortunate than ourselves.

"I am delighted that our parents and members of the local community were able to join us for our Christingle Service and enjoy the wonderful singing and reading our learners and staff worked so hard on these past few weeks.

"2016 has been a fantastic year for LVS Oxford and our students with autism have made so much progress academically and socially.

"They are thriving at the school and we look forward to helping them develop further still in 2017."

Superfast broadband goes live

By Samantha McGregor

EIGHT communities across the county are celebrating after "going live" with superfast broadband.

Among those to benefit from the Better Broadband scheme is aptly named Christmas Common, near Thame.

The scheme is a joint initiative between Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) and BT and has seen an investment of more than £36m.

Other communities where fibre broadband has recently gone 'live' include the Grange Road area of Banbury, Britwell Salome, Cuxham, Nettlebed, Nuffield, Park Corner and the Oxford Road area of Swinford.

The faster broadband connection means people can play games, stream music and watch television without any buffering as well as benefitting businesses and usage at home.

Cllr Nick Carter, OCC's cabinet member for local government, business, ICT & customer Services, said: "We are delighted to have been able to bring a little Christmas cheer to this appropriately named hamlet in rural south Oxfordshire, and look forward to extending this during 2017."

He said about 70,000 households and businesses across Oxfordshire are now able to get superfast fibre broadband as a result of the Better Broadband for Oxfordshire (BBfO) roll-out.

Steve Henderson, BT's regional director for broadband partnerships, said: "This is a great time of year to get high-speed broadband. We rely on the internet more than ever to get things done. Whether it's working from home, running a business, doing homework or internet shopping – everything is easier and faster with fibre broadband."

Peter Richardson, of local community group Connect8, has been campaigning for better broadband in the area.

He welcomed the move, saying: "The arrival of superfast fibre broadband in Christmas Common is a breakthrough milestone in the long-running drive to bring a good broadband service to South Oxfordshire, with neighbouring areas following during 2017."

BT, OCC and the Government have contributed the lion's share. But councils including South Oxfordshire District Council, Cherwell District Council and Vale of the White Horse District Council have also made financial contributions.

Korma along to award-winning Indian

A BICESTER curry house has once again made it to the shortlist of the industry's equivalent of the Oscars.

Jaflong Tandoori Restaurant, in Market Square, proved its food was top-notch when it reached the shortlist for Best in the South East 2016 at the British Curry Awards.

It was the 12th year running the family-run restaurant has received an award – Jaflong has reached the finals seven times and has been shortlisted five times.

In order to enter the awards, judges visited the restaurant, took photographs and made a video.

They were served two of the chef's specials, a starter of Tufani platter – dishes based on chicken and lamb and other delicacies, and the main course was chicken rajma – a half and half dish, comprising of Bhuna style and a creamy almond sauce.

The judges also looked at how well the restaurant was run, its atmosphere and how the staff interacted with customers.

Owner Shakur Ali, who runs the business with son Dilwar, said he was "honoured" to receive recognition from the British Curry Awards for the 12th year running.

He said: "We have seen a number of restaurants close recently, but we have had a really good year.

"My restaurant is very popular locally, I have been running it for 20 years and have a good reputation and have made a lot of friends in Bicester and the surrounding area.

"People like our restaurant – it's one of the oldest buildings in Bicester. Customers always come back. I think they like the atmosphere and the Bangladeshi cuisine, which is subtly different to Indian food.

"Getting a British Curry Award year after year proves to us, and our customers, that we consistently offer quality food and a quality service."

£320m rail link up and running

By Samantha McGregor

A NEW £320m commuter rail link between Oxford and London is in operation – the first between a major city and the capital for more than 100 years.

The Oxford city to London Marylebone route was opened last week by Transport Secretary Chris Grayling.

It's the culmination of more than four years' construction work.

The first section of the link – a service between Oxford Parkway and London Marylebone, via Bicester Village Station opened last October.

That service has seen more than 1.5m passengers use the line since it opened.

The scheme is a joint initiative between Network Rail and Chiltern Railways and offers commuters an alternative service into the capital.

The new service is expected to see more than 850,000 journeys from Oxford Station each year.

The new service will offer two trains per hour throughout the day between Oxford and London Marylebone with a journey time of about an hour.

The idea for the line was conceived by Chiltern Railways who invested £130million while Network Rail constructed the line as part of the wider East West Rail project, contributing £190m to the scheme.

Dave Penney, managing director of Chiltern Railways, said: "This is a significant milestone in the history of Chiltern Railways.

"The new line delivers meaningful benefits for those living and working in the region and will be economically advantageous for the regional economy.

"It creates direct competition in the rail market between Oxford and London giving customers a real choice and flexibility, as well as delivering the first new service between a major British city and London for over 100 years."

Mark Carne, chief executive of Network Rail, said: "I am delighted that Network Rail has delivered the first part of East West Rail on time and on budget for our customers.

"What's really satisfying is how this happened: Chiltern told us what their customers wanted and put up some money – then Network Rail, working closely with Chiltern, made it happen.

"Privately-funded railway upgrades to improve service based on customers' needs – that is exactly what Network Rail is all about. Here's to many more railway upgrades following this model in future."

• From left, Dave Penney managing director of Chiltern Railways; Chris Grayling, secretary of state for transport; Michael Portillo; and Mark Carne, chief executive of Network Rail

Time to apply for apprentice awards

BUSINESSES are being urged to nominate staff for the Oxfordshire Apprenticeship Awards.

The inaugural awards take place on March 8, 2017, at Marlborough Enterprise Centre in Woodstock.

Award categories include Intermediate Apprentice of the Year, which is open to apprentices living or working in Oxfordshire who have completed a minimum of 12 months of their current Level Two.

Advanced Apprentice of the Year, is for apprentices living or working in Oxfordshire who have completed a minimum of 12 months of their Level Three apprenticeship.

There are also awards for Higher Apprentice of the Year, Training Provider Award, School Award, Special Recognition Award and Oxfordshire Apprentice of the Year Award.

Electrical engineering firm Darke & Taylor, who won the Apprenticeship of the Year Award at the Oxfordshire Business Awards last year are one of this year's sponsors.

Commercial director Simon Newton is also on the Awards Committee to represent large employers. He said: "Apprenticeships are a very important part of our business model and we want to help celebrate the success of the many apprentices that bring such a benefit to a diverse range of Oxfordshire businesses."

Applications close on Monday, January 16, and judges will meet on February 8 to agree finalists.

For more information call 01865 323477 or email awards@oxfordshireapprenticeships.co.uk

News Bites

Reminder call

OXON: Oxford University Hospitals has begun using an automated telephone reminder system to call patients to remind them about their appointments.

In October this year, 5,463 appointments were missed at the county's hospitals, which cost the NHS more than £775,000.

Patients are being urged to listen to the end of the call to confirm whether they will be attending the appointment or not. If people don't choose one of the options at the end of the message the system will call back – up to 11 times.

Thame is runner-up

THAME: The town came runner-up in this year's Great British High Street Competition, losing out to Hebden Bridge in West Yorkshire.

The awards were presented at a ceremony in London last week.

Thame's entry was praised by the judges for collaboration between the town council, businesses and the community.

It was commended for its work in promoting the town's connection to television show Midsomer Murders to attract visitors through funding from a 'Rising Star' it received at last year's awards.

Poppy appeal

THAME: The council raised £948.13 for the Royal British Legion from sales of poppies and wreaths in this year's appeal.

The money is part of a total of £23,200 raised across the district for the charity. The figure was £1,000 more than the previous year.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Beary Christmas in Oxford

By James Richings

CHRISTMAS is all about family and spending time with your loved ones.

And if you have children, then what can be better than taking them to a festive production?

The Story Museum in Oxford has the perfect one for them to enjoy with 'The Three Bears' being performed there until Sunday, January 8.

Writer and director Reneta Allen believes the show which features three stories about bears is sure to entertain.

"This is a brand new production that brings together three classic children's stories about bears," Reneta said.

"It has a mix of elements to delight and engage our audience including well known stories such as 'Goldilocks and the Three Bears, along with stories the audience may not have heard before.

"For example, there is a story about how a bear got his stumpy tail and a Norwegian story called 'East of the Sun and West of the Moon'.

"Many children who come to see this production may be experiencing live theatre for the first time, so it's terribly important they enjoy themselves and are gripped by the compelling interaction that is possible in a live show.

"They are invited to participate at times and even when they're not supposed to, they often say things spontaneously. So the children truly make sure that every show is unique to themselves and their relationship with the performer."

Reneta first appeared on the scene in 1991 when she wrote the children's production, 'The Magic Story Book' for the Oxford Playhouse, which became a huge hit with families across the city.

The popularity of the show gave Reneta the encouragement to continue with her writing, and now 25 years on from her debut production, she hopes she can still have the same impact on families over the Christmas period.

Local performer Andy Owens is the storyteller whilst Derbyshire-born musician David Gibb is supplying the soundtrack.

The run of shows at the Rochester House venue began on December 1.

"Personally I take a great deal of delight in the way the music interweaves with the stories and heightens the enjoyment or emotion intensely at particular times," Reneta said.

"It is organically built into the show rather than randomly added for no reason at all and the combination of the lovely compositions with Andy's exceptional voice make for some wonderful moments."

Tickets cost £12.50 to £14.

Robinson Crusoe: The Review

By James Richings

NOT being too familiar with the story of 'Robinson Crusoe', I really didn't know what to expect.

But I must say I was really pleased with what I saw.

So, what is the 2016 Chipping Norton Theatre pantomime about?

Robinson Crusoe (Craig Rhys Barlow), a cheeky-chappy, happy go lucky fishmonger from Hull boards the 'Saucy Nancy' ship to search for his late father's secret treasure on an exotic island after finding the secret treasure map.

As he boards the boat with his mother Dame Camilla 'Cammy' Crusoe (Andrew Pepper), Captain Wallace Windblower (Robert Maskell) and The Hounrable Polly Perkins, who is Robinson's love-interest and Wallace's niece (Emilia Williams), they bump into some evil pirates on their journey who are also on the lookout for the hidden gold.

However, a huge storm hits which destroys the ship and makes the group of goodies split up on an island.

Robinson then befriends Friday (Jean-Luke Worrell), the last member of a tribe who vows to help the young fishmonger find his friends, family and the missing gold.

But will Betty Babcock the Pirate (Kali Hughes) ruin their plan?

One thing that really stood out in this pantomime was the chemistry between the characters, especially with Barlow and Williams.

Barlow's loveable, boyish, charm and Williams' posh manner and innocence made their on-stage relationship work as the characters are completely different.

Williams' performance in some ways reminded me of Jane's character from the 1999 Disney adaptation of 'Tarzan', as Williams' character is a well-brought up young woman who finds herself at the heart of an incredible adventure which made her an immediate hit with the audience.

But the standout performance would have to go to Andrew Pepper as the Dame Camilla 'Cammy' Crusoe.

A flamboyant, flirty and lovable mother who has one of the strongest Yorkshire accents I have ever heard, Pepper's performance as the Dame was right out of the top drawer as his comedic timing to deliver punch lines was brilliant.

The way he interacted with the audience, his over the top persona and improvisation skills were well appreciated by the crowd, which was evident in one particular moment.

When the Dame finds out there is a monster on the island that the group are stranded on called The Terrible Trump (a reference to the US President in waiting), Pepper, alongside Williams and Maskell sing a song that 'hopefully' scares the monster away.

When the three repeat the chorus on numerous occasions, both Williams and Maskell run off stage after coming face to face with the creature whilst Pepper continues to sing, with the crowd screaming out the traditional phrase 'it's behind you!' when the monster appears on stage.

The 'monster' was a bear costume, donning a red tie and an orange lifelike rubber mask of Trump with blinding blonde hair.

Pepper continues with his number with the audience still urging him to turn around. But as he remains facing the front, one youngster from the audience took matters into their own hands.

When Pepper finished the song to say his next line, a child from the front row shouted, 'if you stopped singing and looked behind you, you'd see the monster.'

A huge roar of laughter then echoed around the Spring Street theatre.

Acknowledging the comment, Pepper looked over to the child, smiled and simply said, 'Love, I need to sing and not turn around, because that's how a panto works'. The audience took great pleasure in the comment and gave the actor a round of applause.

'Robinson Crusoe' really is a show for the whole family.

The show runs until Sunday, January 8.

Audi Q2 1.6 TDi SE

German crossover worth a look

By Anthony Yates

THE new Audi Q2 is a very stylish crossover that also happens to be spacious, practical and bold with its display of confident flowing design features helping to give it its coupé-like appearance.

I also like how the Q2 has a powerful presence on the road with its modern SUV looks and high ground clearance which all do their bit to show off the distinctive and versatile appearance of the Q2.

Power and efficiency:

The Q2 I had on test was fitted with a 1.6 litre TDi engine that is equipped with a stop/start system to enhance fuel economy. The 116hp version produces 250Nm of torque and can accelerate from 0 to 62 mph in 10.3 seconds and will reach a maximum top speed of about 122mph. I am not going to talk much about MPG, but I did manage a good return of 55mpg using my normal driving route. The 1.6-litre diesel engine is also up for being driven hard if the need requires, but it's also quiet when you're in sixth gear cruising on the motorway.

• Audi Q2 1.6 TDi SE

On the road:

The steering is accurate in whatever situation unfolds itself on the road and the chassis is good. Grip levels are also good and the Q2 is a very engaging drive but you have to remember that this car is not a raw seat-of-your-pants car. The Q2 also has a short wheelbase and a high centre of gravity so I expected a fair amount of body roll when going into the corners, but, to be honest, this was very minimal and it felt better than I expected.

Design & technology:

Equipment highlights include 17" x 7.0J '5-arm star' design alloy wheels, Audi Drive Select, front sport seats in index cloth, inlays in a choice of red or yellow, anodised paint finish, aluminium interior elements, MMI Navigation (SD card-based) Audi Connect Infotainment Services, eight passive loudspeakers, cruise-control system and light and rain sensors.

Plus, there are the usual safety features such as Audi Pre-sense front collision with pedestrian recognition, multi-collision brake assist, LED lighting (option on SE & Sport models). There is also a large selection of the optional technologies available such as park assist, rear-view camera, cross-traffic assist rear, adaptive cruise control with stop/go, traffic-jam assist and Audi active lane assist.

Rear passenger leg room is also good, even for the tallest of people, and the seating is well set out with plenty of support for all occupants. The boot is also large enough to deal with a large shopping trip or a large family week away.

To sum up:

The Q2 is a great little car, but the abundance of small SUVs on the market is making it difficult for most people to pick a firm favourite. I would not rule out taking a look at the Audi Q2 because it has some great features along with a good chassis and a firm sense of reliability on its side.

Ardley tamed in cup upset

ARDLEY United manager Paul Davies has blasted his side's 5-2 Oxfordshire Cup defeat at lower league Thame Rangers on Saturday as one of the worst performances of the season.

Davies' critical analysis comes just a week after he had praised his side for the best performance in a 2-0 league win at Tuffley Rovers.

The north Oxfordshire side threw away a 2-1 half-time lead to suffer an embarrassing cup defeat thanks to Rangers' hat-trick hero Sean Coles.

Ardley took the lead from a corner on seven minutes when Chris Jackson towered between two defenders to head home, but Coles levelled with his first of the afternoon on 14 minutes.

Ardley retook the lead in the final minute of the half through Jack Heap to give the visitors a half-time lead.

Thame equalised for the second time five minutes after the restart when Coles headed home his second of the afternoon.

The goal rocked Ardley and gave Thame the belief to then go on and dominate the rest of the game.

And Coles' hat-trick on 62 minutes followed by further strikes from Shayne Almond (66) and Kieron Schmidt (87) secured Thame's passage into the next round.

Davies said: "After going from our best performance of the season last week, this is in the top two of our worst performances of the season.

"We simply were not at the races, individually and as a group.

"We can change things or go back to basics or we can look for excuses but at the end of the day we were supposed to be the better team from a higher level but we've been a million miles away from them."

Three-time Olympic medallist Houghton retires from rowing

By George Welch

• Frances Houghton, third from left, with her women's eights team showing their medals (Pictures courtesy of Team GB)

FRANCES Houghton, the three-time Olympic silver medal-winning rower, has announced her retirement after 16 years at the top of her sport.

Oxford-born Houghton, who has represented Team GB at five Olympic Games since making her debut at Sydney 2000, won quadruple sculls silver in Athens and Beijing, before helping to deliver the country's first-ever women's eight Olympic medal in Rio this summer.

The 36-year-old former Headington School pupil first joined the Great Britain set-up as a junior in 1995, before winning World Junior bronze three years later.

At Rio 2016, Houghton, a member of Henley's Leander Club, was part of the crew which delivered Britain's first ever women's eight Olympic medal, rowing alongside former Dragon School pupil Katie Greaves.

Houghton said: "Having achieved my goal of going to five Olympic Games, this is the right time for me to retire.

"To row at an elite level was my dream since the age of 11, and winning silver in Rio with such an inspiring, fun and motivated team was the perfect end.

"I have been fortunate to row with so many incredible people throughout my career, with whom I share many great memories and they all made the hard work worth every moment.

"My greatest debts of gratitude go to my mother, sister and fiancé, without whose support, understanding and endless encouragement this year following the passing of my father (who came to almost every race I entered for 25 years) just a few weeks before the Games, I would not have been in Rio at all.

"I look forward to watching the next generation of rowers going from strength to strength. I hope they enjoy the sport as much as I have."

Puritans strike early to secure another win

THREE goals within 30 minutes put Banbury United on the way to another three points in a 4-0 home win against bottom club Cinderford Town on Saturday.

The magnificent first half performance helped the Puritans to their third win in row and to eighth place in the Southern League Premier Division, six points off the play-offs.

Banbury, who scored within a minute in last week's 5-0 win over Hayes & Yeading, took another early lead against Cinderford when Conor McDonagh slotted home after just 12 seconds.

Two goals in the space of two minutes virtually sealed the points for United when Ricky Johnson fired the ball home from close range on 25 minutes before Andy Gunn headed in from a free-kick less than two minutes later.

Banbury were never in trouble and extended their advantage with a fourth two minutes into stoppage time as Johnson converted Zac McEachran's free-kick.

Stars fail to shine against Chieftains

OXFORD City Stars' miserable run of form continued as they lost their sixth successive game on Sunday.

They were beaten 5-3 by National Ice Hockey League South 1 leaders Chelmsford Chieftains, meaning the Stars have lost every game against their Essex rivals this season.

Sunday's match started with a dominant first period from the Chieftains, with two goals from Grant Bartlett and another from Juraj Huska giving them a 3-0 lead after 20 minutes.

Five minutes into the second period and the Stars finally got their first courtesy of Jaroslav Cesky, sparking the traditional throwing of teddy bears onto the ice to be donated to charity.

Following the brief interlude the Chieftains re-established their three-goal advantage, with Daniel Hammond scoring on the powerplay.

Towards the end of the period the Stars found themselves with a two-man advantage, and made good use of it as Dominic Hopkins got his side's second of the match.

Early in the third period the gap was down to one goal as Josh Oliver put one in the net, and sensing the comeback victory the Stars stepped up their efforts.

Chances came and went, but Lukas Zatopek sealed the win for the Chieftains with their fifth goal partway through the period.

The Stars sit fourth in the standings with 15 points, with third to sixth now separated by just four points.

They now head off for their Christmas break, with the next league match away to Bracknell Hornets on January 7.

Cricket club honours top players

BICESTER and North Oxford Cricket Club celebrated a successful season at the club's annual dinner and presentation night.

Dan Savin's 29 Division 4 wickets, taken at 13.26 runs each, saw him claim the 1st XI player of the year award in a season that also saw the side gain promotion back to Division 3.

Club stalwart Steve Conway's 25 wickets at just 10.7 runs apiece earned him the 2nd XI player of the year prize, and helped them to a strong third-placed finish, just missing out on promotion.

The 3rd XI player of the year award was scooped by the returning Marcus Mears, whose 199 runs at an average of 22 helped the side finish sixth in Division 9 North.

Also vital to the 3rd XI was George James, who claimed the Youth Player of the Year award for his mature performances with both the bat (167 runs at 18.6), and with the gloves behind the stumps.

The Clubman of the Year Award was shared between 1st XI captain and vice-captain Ryan Moore and Olly Ward for their efforts off the field, organising and promoting the club's increasing number of social events.

Preparations for the 2017 season get under way in January, and new players of all abilities are encouraged to attend the winter net sessions taking place at The Cooper School, Churchill Road, Bicester.

Freds concede nine at home

WANTAGE Town hit a new low in their miserable Division One South and West campaign as they were thrashed 9-0 at home to Taunton Town on Saturday.

The Freds had an afternoon to forget, shipping six goals inside the opening half an hour.

It only took four minutes for Taunton to open their account, as Craig Duff tucked the ball into the left hand corner.

Owen Irish headed home from close range for the second, before a spell of three goals in four minutes got Taunton up to five.

Number six came on 29 minutes as Owen Irish completed his first ever hat-trick, before the Freds finally had a chance of their own just before half-time as Harvey Scholes shot into the path of keeper Lloyd Irish.

Thick fog almost came to Wantage's rescue as there were talk of abandoning the game at the break, but it resumed as planned and early in the half the Freds had another chance as Sean McKeown's volley was saved.

Taunton had the ball in the back of the net again on 67 minutes but it was ruled offside, but the seventh came soon afterwards from Matt Wright.

And in the last 10 minutes the visitors were able to put away two more goals to complete the rout, and leave Wantage languishing towards the bottom of the table.

Leigh ship four in home defeat

NORTH Leigh were given a lesson in finishing when they suffered a 4-1 home defeat to third placed Evesham United on Saturday.

The Millers were 2-0 down at the break after Evesham took the game by the scruff of the neck with two excellent strikes in the space of seven minutes.

On the quarter hour mark, forward Carl Brown drove through the centre of the pitch and unleashed a stunning right foot shot from 20 yards beyond Manny Agboola into the bottom corner.

And on 22 minutes, Lance Smith fired a rocket from the edge of the area to give Agboola no chance as Evesham doubled their advantage.

Although match officials inspected the visibility conditions and allowed the game to continue, most supporters were able to see very little of the action in the second half because of the fog.

And that was probably for the best for Leigh fans as the Robins scored two very quick goals to put the game way out of reach for the home side.

Garyn Preen scored from close range a minute after the restart before Smith scored his second goal from close range two minutes later to make it 4-0.

A token strike by George Seacole on 55 minutes from close range was the best Leigh could manage in a game best forgotten.

City's caretaker boss makes winning start

By George Welch

CARETAKER boss Mark Jones made a winning start to his Oxford City reign by ending a three match losing streak.

The former City coach oversaw a 1-0 win against Eastbourne Borough at Court Place Farm on Saturday to lift the Hoops to their highest league position since the second game of the season.

• Caretaker manager Mark Jones watches on as Jefferson Louis scored the winner against Eastbourne Borough (Pictures by Michael Allen)

Striker Jefferson Louis scored eight minutes from time to lift City to 14th in the National League South table, eight points above the relegation zone.

The match began tentatively as both sides took their time to acclimatise to a tired pitch, but Oxford were the first to trouble the opposing goal after a trademark adventurous run by Godfrey Poku.

But most of the early exchanges took place in the City half, with Elliott Romain missing the clearest chance of the match for the Sports when he found himself clean through on goal, but could only shoot straight at a grateful Ty Belford.

City went straight down the other end and nearly took the lead from a dangerous free kick on the edge of the area.

Scott Davies struck the set piece sweetly but, with the ball destined for Charlie Horlock's top right hand corner, the keeper got across magnificently to push the ball around the post.

City made the all important breakthrough with time running out when Stéphane Ngamvoulou drilled a ball across the face of goal to veteran striker Louis, who made no mistake to convert the Hoops' winner.

Speaking after the game, a delighted Jones described the win as "a very important three points".

Jones has wasted no time in making changes to his squad since taking over, with the signing of Frenchman Jean-Yves Koue Niate from National League side Solihull Moors.

The 23-year-old central defender made his debut against Eastbourne on Saturday.

He has also made changes to his coaching staff as Enrique Guillen has stepped down to focus on the Oxford City Lions Futsal side, while former Luton Town academy coach Joe Deeney is Jones' new assistant.

Goal-happy Kidlington keep scoring

KIDLINGTON scored two goals or more for the seventh game in a row on Saturday as they beat Arlesey Town 2-0 at Yarnton Road.

Goals from Anaclet Odhiambo and Callum Harvey either side of half-time extended the Greens' unbeaten run in December to three matches.

The win sees Julian McCalmon's side up to 15th place in the Southern League Division Central table, the best position so far this season.

Kiddy dictated play from the early stages and the pressure told when, after some excellent work by Tommy Castle and Lewis Coyle, the ball found Odhiambo, who slotted home on 38 minutes.

Kidlington have scored 15 goals in their last seven matches and they doubled their advantage shortly after the restart through substitute Harvey.

Castle weaved some magic down the left flank before he found Harvey – the youngster took one touch before placing his shot into the far corner.

Kidlington played some neat and controlled football as their midfield trio of Lewis Gabbidon, Elliott Osbourne-Rickets and Eric Odhiambo ran the game.

Didcot and Shortwood share six-goal Christmas cracker

• Ben Whitehead fires home Didcot's second goal (Picture by Roger Neal)

DIDCOT Town came back from 3-1 down to draw 3-3 at Shortwood United on Saturday as the Division 1 South & West play-offs continue to be just out of sight.

Diddy won five games in a row in a six-match unbeaten run from October into November to get within touching distance of the play-offs, but now sit mid-table and eight points off the promotion places after winning just one of four December matches.

But Saturday's point at fellow promotion hopefuls Shortwood just about keeps them in play-off contention ahead of a Boxing Day clash at home to struggling local side Wantage Town.

And overturning a two-goal deficit against such strong opposition will be seen as a point gained rather than two points dropped for Andy Ballard's side on Saturday.

The Railwaymen took the lead after just five minutes through Sam Barder but Shortwood's new signing Ross Langworthy rounded Leigh Bedwell to equalise just four minutes later.

The hosts raced to a 3-1 lead before half-time when Will Morford and Jake Lee goals looked to have put United in control.

But a Ben Whitehead strike on the stroke of half-time gave the visitors a boost going into the break.

Didcot continued the pressure in the second half and were level on the hour when Whitehead struck from a tight angle to put them deservedly level.

Both sides were dangerous in the final half hour but there was no winner and the sides shared the points.

Maguire celebrates one of his two goals against Swindon Town

By George Welch

STRIKER Chris Maguire proved inspirational for Oxford United as they came from behind twice to beat struggling Bury 3-2 on Saturday.

Maguire scored from two free kicks to drag United back on level terms at Gigg Lane against a Bury side that have now lost their last 12 league matches and are winless in 16 matches in all competitions.

Trailing to a James Vaughan goal early on, Maguire struck his magnificent free kicks either side of a Tom Pope goal to leave the scores level at half-time.

But Oxford stole the points 20 minutes from time when a Marvin Johnson cross was inadvertently turned into his own net by Bury left back Greg Leigh to extend the U's unbeaten run in all competitions to eight matches.

Maguire's 10th and 11th goals of the season in all competitions helped propel his side to equal a season's high of 10th place in SkyBet League One, just five points off the play-off spots.

The 27-year-old has been vital to Michael Appleton's side this year as last season's League Two runners-up have made a steady return to English football's third tier, their first campaign at this level since the 2000-2001 season.

With 11 goals to the Scotsman's name already, the forward, who has contributed from all angles of Oxford's front line, has scored some vital goals this season, including winners against Bradford City, Peterborough United and, of course, both goals in a 2-0 win over rivals Swindon Town.

The forward has scored eight of his 11 goals this season from dead-ball situations – half of these being free kicks.

He scored his third free kick of the season on 14 minutes low into Bury goalkeeper's Paul Rachubka's bottom left hand corner from the left, 18 yards out. And he got the better of the Shakers' reserve keeper again two minutes before half-time for his fourth when from a more central position he lofted the ball over the wall and into the net, despite Rachubka getting a hand to it.

The former Scotland international has now scored three more goals than summer signing Kane Hemmings, who is on eight goals for the season in all competitions.

As pleased as Appleton will be with his forwards, the U's head coach will be concerned with his defenders after Vaughan lobbed Simon Eastwood for a simple route-one goal on five minutes before Pope bundled home the home side's second on 39 minutes.

• The U's are heading for another bumper Boxing Day crowd at the Kassam with more than 10,000 tickets sold for the home game against Northampton Town on Monday.
